

Assignment 00

The boxes with rounded corners represents if statements. The boxes with pointy corners represents return statements. The pointers shows what the if statement leads to, either another if statement or a return statement.

